Lack of Administrative Funds Slows Down Japanese American Evacuation Claims Program

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Justice Department's administration of the program to indemnify wartime Japanese American evacuees from the Pacific coast for losses sustained has been greatly curtailed because of the limited funds available to them for carrying out the program it was reported last week.

Whereas Japanese Americans have relocated to various parts of the U. S. the fact that only two offices at Los Angeles and San Francisco have been established to date to process and investigate the 24,000 claims totalling in value more than $100 million, has been intimated as one of the chief reasons that the adjudication program is bogged down.

But owing to the lack of funds, it is only possible to set up two more such offices. This is considered far from adequate.

The Justice Department, however, intends to send into the various uncovered localities sufficient personnel who will establish temporary field offices for the purpose of interviewing claimants and conducting investigations.

First Report of Nisei G.I.'s in South Korea

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — The first report of a Nisei soldier on the Korean front was noted by the Pacific Citizen which mentioned that an Associated Press dispatch on July 5 by O. H. P. King in South Korea said that Private First Class James H. Kobayashi, 27, of Philadelphia, was among some G. I.'s "scrounging for food for their mess."

King said that Kobayashi and a comrade brought in a half dozen chickens to eat.

Registration Begins For "Go For Broke"

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Nisei veterans here who are interested in parts for the forthcoming MGM production "Go For Broke", a story of the famous Japanese American combat regiment, have been asked to register their names for future reference in connection with casting.

According to Robert Pirosh of MGM, writer-director of the production, the finishing touches are now being made on the script, and casting should begin in the very near future.

Lethbridge JCCA Float Second Best in Parade

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. — A mammoth parade in which the Lethbridge JCCA entered a float, opened the Lethbridge 1950 Exhibition with a grand flurry on the morning of June 26.

Spectators were awed and thrilled at the sight of the giant JCCA entry arrayed with cherry blossoms, fans, parasols and petite girls clad in colorful kimonos.

The float took second prize.

In charge of the preparation of the float was Mr. Tom Nomura to whom goes the appreciation of the JCCA chapter as well as to the many other members who contributed to the chapter undertaking.

THE WEEKLY HABIT

By TOYO TAKATA

Perhaps it was the sudden mushrooming of birth announcements that brought up this subject with which we are unavoidably bound to tread on the thinner epidermis of Nisei toes, but nevertheless we'll chance the gauntlet of jabs and stabs along with the crescendo of protesting catcalls and hisses.

An acquaintance of ours we've known for so long that we just can't remember from since when, mentioned that he finds the blessed events column in our tabloid a source of irritating humour. He can't understand why all Nisei parents insist on tacking western or English handles to their offsprings.

They can find a stockpile of excellent names to dub their sons and daughters without resorting to the too common Lindas, Carols and Susans or Waynes, Geralds and Douglas, he states. He suggests that they be more resourceful and coin a new set of names that is phonetically complimentary to their Japanese surname.

With this we've always been in accord; somehow English first names just do not click with Japanese surnames. But he has brought out an excellent suggestion which we had never thought about and the more we think of it the better it sounds.

He says that the Nisei have produced without knowing it a lot of suitable names. He is referring to the shortened form of Japanese names or nicknames that the Nisei have given to themselves. Why not keep such names as Kaz, Yosh, Mass, Teru, Tak, and Kiyo for boys and Yuri, Miyo, Hisa, Kimi and Sumi for girls, he puts forth.

They are ... to the Japanese ... the English ... names. The purpose of ... was to ... Japanese ... says that ... for they are ... their Japanese ... Nisei ... the Ma... [illegible] names to Smith, Johnson or Martin. Equally as much as Hideo Jones or Fumiko McDonald is not flattering; neither are their opposites with which we now seem to be stuck.

He points out that Kaz or Yuri are not troublesome for anyone to pronounce and they are as pleasant sounding as English names; so why not keep them?

And he claims that Caucasians do find these Nisei names appealing to the ear, and knows one girl who is so intrigued by them that she wants borrow them when she has children of her own.

He has something, and moreover, we have to agree with him. Not only is this sensible, it's sound and practical. It eliminates the need of having two names, one English and one Japanese. Having two, or in some cases three names, is burdening the child; speed and simplicity is the modern trend, and it outweighs any practical advantage that can be gained by owning more than one name. And this practice will most likely die out.

Although we think this merits consideration, and is practical, we can't see Niseis taking this as it's okay but we want to do what others do. That's one of our faults, we're too bridled with conventional trivialities that we hesitate to do away with.

Like a needle on a turntable, we follow a well-worn groove. We're hemmed in by current trends and we just won't go against the tide.

And we think it's about time we became more of individuals and less of a set pattern.

Kla Zhan Kona

An Indian and His Mission

By J. N.

"The ... of ... the ... rocky shores" is the ... translation of Kla Zhan Kona, the Indian name of Dr. Peter R. Kelly. And to live up to this colorful appellation he recently came out of ... to beat tom toms at Ottawa for full citizenship rights for Indians.

Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Native Brotherhood of B. C., he was one of the ... delegates of various Indian bands throughout Canada who came last month for a pow wow at the capital and left a few weeks later with the intended mission not being fulfilled as anticipated.

Born 65 years ago at Skidegate Indian Reservation, Queen Charlotte Islands, Dr. Kelly descends from the reputedly most intelligent of Pacific coast Indians—the Haida tribe. He related jokingly that the tribe had at one time terrorized the B. C. mainland, often capturing members of other tribes as slaves.

Becomes Leader

He received his formal education in Sardis, B. C., in a humble Indian residential school from which he was to graduate later as one of the first two students and thence to enter Chilliwack High School. This, at a time when very few Indians had pursued education even of a public school level.

Fortunately, just about the time when he graduated from high school a white male principal and a female teacher quit the residential school of his birthplace. As a result, he was asked to fill their places.

His leadership and his education were soon recognized by his people and in no time, he was elected a chief councillor of the community. Although according to a section in the Indian Act, he could not hold the position till he reached the age of 21, he was nevertheless chosen as the leader by the will of the people. And by virtue of the fact that he is also a hereditary chief, he enjoyed great prestige while heading the council of 7 men and ruling the affairs of his tribe.

Five years later, in 1910, he left for Hartley Bay, B. C. to serve as a missionary teacher as well as a postmaster of the village. It was during this period that he became fully cognizant of the problems of Indians. He became involved in a Indian movement and, in 1911, he was picked as a youngest spokesman for a delegation of B. C. Indians who approached the provincial government for a removal of their aboriginal title.

The ... [illegible]

tual hope of helping the lot of his people by becoming a minister some day. He enrolled at Columbian College, a Methodist institution in New Westminster, B. C., and, in 1916, he realized his dream when he was ordained a minister. Subsequently, he immediately took over the charge at Nanaimo, where he spent the next 14 years.

During the interim, in 1920, he made his first trip to Ottawa as one of the representatives to petition Parliament on a title question. Leaving Nanaimo, he then had a 3 year stint at Bella Coola Indian Reservation.

Travelling Evangelist

Then came the most interesting and adventurous period of his life. In 1933, he began to serve the Central Mainland Marine Mission of the United Church of Canada. The work took the form of evangelism by boat—a 70 ft. Diesel-engined craft.

Doubling as skipper and missionary, he made the rounds of Indian villages, logging, mining and fishing camps, canneries, lonely lighthouses and many other isolated spots where ministry was needed. With headquarters at Ocean Falls, his itinerary ranged from Queen Charlotte Sound up to the Alaskan border, a round trip of 1100 miles which enabled him to make over 70 calls.

Unfortunately, it was but a year ago that the strain of his work began to show on him, and he was forced to resign the Marine Mission to take another charge at Union Bay where he is actively engaged among his people today. However, in tribute to his untiring efforts in ministering to all manner of people, regardless of color or creed, the U.B.C. soon awarded him the honorary degree, the doctor of divinity.

Careful Man

Dr. Kelly is perhaps not as laconic as most Indians seem to be, but he is nevertheless not a garrulous type; rather he is humble and unobtrusive. Slow of movement and slow of speech, he ponders and chooses his words carefully.

Dr. Kelly sounded with a bitter note that both the state and the church are forever taking a paternal attitude toward his people, a situation which tends to hinder them from uplifting themselves.

The Native Voice, the official organ of the Native Brotherhood of B. C. for which he is one of the directors, wrote in an editorial that the Indian Act ... be wiped off the statute ... it serves only as a reflection that Indians are an inferior people. Dr. Kelly, however, admitted that Indians are not quite ready ... the ... of the country. He said that education of ... standards must be given first.

水害見舞御禮

皆様には益々御清榮の事と存じます、漸く夏が訪れて水害の跡も何處へやら、ただ白いフエンスや小舍の壁に増水した形跡を見受けるのみで草木は青々と繁り、あのマニトバを襲つた大洪水は後跡も止めぬ程になりました

同胞の皆様や佛教會、キリスト教會又カナダ國民一同からの深甚なる同情又は物質的精神的の援助を深く感謝致します

我々も又新しい希望を持つて再建に努力し今では殆んど復起致しました、この私達の感謝の氣持を皆様に表わしたいとこの紙上をかりて厚く御禮申上ます（セント・ヴイタル在住者）

初夏の獨想（中）

ウイニペッグ　佐藤生

私の様な凡人は一ヶ所に永く住んで居るとその環境になれ切つてしまつて自然界の色色な現象にも何等の感興をわかさなくなるらしい。移住は多くの場合喜ましい事ではないがその反面には視界を廣め人生を豊にするといふいゝものがある。少年期を日本で過した私は松の木が好きであつた。曲りくねつた幹と複雑怪奇な枝ぶりを張る松の緑に美を感じたからだ。然し一九四二年の移動でロッキー山脈を越える時新しい松の存在を發見した。あそこの松は[illegible]直ぐで枝を張らないで[illegible]文字通り[illegible]出來て居る様な山[illegible]雪をいただく峰近くにまで及ぶ松の林は丁度日本の竹林を聯想せしめるのであつた。成程あそこに日本の松をもつて來ても植る所で枝は裂け幹はたふれてしまうであらう。あゝした自然に對抗してあの山嶽を征服するには松もあゝした形をとらなければならないのであろう。

マニトバに來た最初の年私はビーツ作りで一シーズンを田舎で暮した。長い冬から春をぬきにして一足飛びに夏にはいつた様に爽快する酷暑、そして又秋をぬきにして冬を迎へる様に急に寒さがやつて來る。あたかもこの[illegible]一年は二季[illegible]様だ。この長い冬の嚴烈な寒さで草木がすつかり枯れ果てた様な荒涼とした平原にも五月の太陽が澄み切つた蒼空からまぶしい光線をさん／＼と降りそゝぐ頃になると色彩に變化が起る。かすかな綠を帯びたと思ふ間もなく濃綠色となり、たちまちの中にうつそうと繁る青葉の世界と化してしまう。彼等はあたかもこの成長期を一寸でも無駄にすまいと意識的に急ぐ者の様だ。この成長期の多忙は草や木だけではない。昆蟲類がすさまじい勢で繁殖するのもこの時期だ。蚊、蠅、コーロギ、稲子等々。特に晩夏稲子の産卵期に田舎道を通るならば後尾を地中に突こんだ産卵中の稲子で足のふみ場のない光景に遭遇するだらう。彼等はこの短い生育期にあらゆる過程を忙はしくすまして彼等の種屬の保存を全ふして居るもの〻様だ。同一種類の動植物でもその環境によつてはその生態をこんなにも變へねばならないのだ。

人間生活も斯うした自然科學の眞理から除外されないものらしい。或る人種が新しい天地で繁榮する爲には色々な變化が必要なのだ。云ひかへれば既に繁榮して居る先住民族への同化の必要といふ事である。

米加を通じて排日の大きな理由の一つとして「彼等は同化しない人種だ」と云ふ。果して私共は同化し得ない人種であるだろうか。さうだとすればそれは彼等にとつては大きな問題ではないが、かへつて私共にとつての由々しき問題であるのだ。

トルーマン米大統領が米軍の朝鮮派遣を命じてからすでに二週間となつている。米空海軍いわゆるが南鮮軍援助にあてれば充分と考えられていた最初の米國の方針は變更のやむなきに至り、有力な地上部隊を繰り出し戰車まで續々送り、必要とあらば徴兵することまで事態は變轉して來た。これは要するに北鮮軍は豫期以上に強力であることを物語るものであると共に、北せん軍の勢力を過少評價したことを意味するものである。大陸續きに中共支那とソ連治下の滿洲を背後に控えて有利な條件で「内戰」を進めた北せん軍に反し米軍は其反對の惡い立場に置かれて半島の一角に足場をこしらえて喰い止める役割を課されたからである。ソ連は西部諸國が攻めにくいと思つたからこそ、こゝを戰場と選定したとすれば米軍が初戰にうけた損害の多いのは當然であり、これからも苦戰が繰り返えされよう。朝せんに四ケ年もいた米空軍豫備中佐トーマス・マクルレーは歸米後デトロイトに於て先週末「米國は十万の軍隊で一年間を費さなければ朝せん内戰に勝つことは出來ない」と其の理由として次のことを指摘している。南朝せんの人々は吾々白人を嫌つている——彼等は日中は平和に田畑で働くが夜ともなればギャングとなつて施設を破壞し、手當り次第に米人を殺すであろう

朝鮮の戰爭と日本

内地では在留鮮人間に北、南鮮側に分れ、思想的には左右兩派に分れ抗爭していたが昨年總司令部は北鮮側の團体朝鮮連盟に解散を命じ、財產を沒收した。北鮮側の人々が日本共產黨と密接な關連を保ち、その重要な支柱であるとさえいわれている。しかし開戰後は南鮮の韓國人が約三千韓國の防衛志願していることと北鮮系の人々が「外國は朝鮮の統一を妨げるな」とビラをまいた以外は大した動きは表面的にはないようだ。

戰が起つたのは日曜日だが翌月曜日にはまず株式市場の街軍需株が一斉に昇騰した。これは米國市場の暴落と比較して日本の好戰心理として非難が内外から起つた。しかしこれも一日だけで後は又反落を示して來た。それはやゝ戰爭が大きくなるにつれてこれがベルリンあたりの出來事なら又別だがすぐ隣の事でいつ日本が戰場となるかも限らない樣子になつて來たからだ。

米軍の空軍が九州福岡の飛行場から爆擊に飛び立つた廿九日夜はとう〱北九州一帶は警戒警報で燈火管制を行い各都市は眞つ暗になつた。日本人には又戰爭當時のいやな思い出が再現されたわけである。氣の早い人達はデパートを廻つてカン詰を買溜めたり、ヤミ米を集めたり、更に疎開先と交涉中なども笑えないニュースもある。この前の戰爭で家財を燒かれ、飢に惱んだ人々には耐えられぬ記憶がある。しかし目下の處は平靜でソ連側が冷靜なので極地的に解決しないかとの希望的觀測が相當有力でもある。この事件がいかなる方面に落つくにせよ、日本の早期講和の望みがきえたことは確定的である（東京朝日記者 今澤正朔）

Six Straight

Danforths continued on their merry way with their sixth straight win to increase their first place lead with a 14-5 drubbing of last place Robbies.

Tacker Uchikura notched his fifth straight win without a loss for Danforths, hurling a 4-hitter. Ace Westerns pitcher last year, Ken Mitsui, made his 1950 debut with the Robbies, probably limbering up his arm which he had fractured.

Danforths	14	9	2
Robbies	5	4	2

T. Uchikura and Sho Adachi; A. Kuwahara, M. Kuroda (1), K. Mitsui (4) and Don Mitsubayashi.

Results of the Hurricanes — Queen City game at Christie Pits were not reported.

Notes on Hollywood:

U. S. Film Capital Gets A Look At Rikoran

By Larry Tajiri

Shirley Yoshiko Yamaguchi, a pretty girl who has been getting a good press, may be Hollywood's first honest-to-goodness movie star of Japanese ancestry since the days when Sessue Hayakawa was getting paid in boxcar figures with his delineations of villainy, Oriental style.

Whoever has been handling Miss Yamaguchi's publicity since she arrived in the film city from Honolulu has been doing a good job. Hundreds of words have been filed by Hollywood correspondents for the major news services about the girl who came to Hollywood to learn how to kiss.

Then Miss Yamaguchi showed up on Bob Hope's cerebral palsy benefit and traded banter with the ski-nosed comic and sang a Japanese song to an appreciative San Francisco audience. All of which is a good buildup for a career in Hollywood.

Louella Parsons this week breathed the news that Miss Yamaguchi was a "hot" prospect to get the role of the Oriental siren in "Macao" which is being filmed at RKO. Josef von Sternberg, who is making a Hollywood comeback with "Macao," is reported to be making a screen test of Miss Yamaguchi for the role in which she will vie with Jane Russell for the affections of Robert Mitchum and Robert Ryan.

Another major studio is considering the Japanese actress for the starring role in a proposed film of a novel with a Korean background, while she also is being considered for the role of the Japanese war bride in "East Is East," a part which also was offered to Shirley Temple. "East Is East," a story about American GIs in Japan, is the property of an independent concern.

Meanwhile, the Far Eastern crisis may mean that things will open up again for film actors of Japanese ancestry in Hollywood. The studios are now looking over scripts with Oriental backgrounds which have been gathering dust on the shelves with the hope that some can be revised to meet the demands of current events.

Hollywood has been anticipating a cycle of popular interest in war films and every studio has at least one on its schedule. MGM's entry, of course, will be the Robert Pirosh production of "Go for Broke," the 442nd Combat Team story, on which Mike Masaoka has been serving as technical adviser. Recently the call went out for Nisei veterans of the 442nd to register for parts in the picture, so the Pirosh script probably is near shooting stage. Tentative plans are for production on the film to start early in the fall.

No cast assignments have been announced as yet on "Go for Broke" but it is expected that at least one big-name star from MGM's [illegible] will be picked for a major role. Most of the [illegible] parts, however, including [illegible] of the Nisei heroine, probably will go to unknowns. A number of Nisei girls have been interviewed for the part of the college girl in the film.

Although the story line of "Go for Broke" has not been announced, it is expected that it will take its Nisei principals from Pearl Harbor through the west coast evacuation and the war relocation camps to Camp Shelby and the formation of the 442nd Combat Team.

Robert Pirosh who will write, direct and produce the picture already has shown in "Battleground" that he is close to the GIs and shuns combat heroics. If "Go for Broke" is anywhere near as pungent and gutty as "Battleground," it will probably be a contender for Oscar honors in 1951 or 1952.

MGM is not the only studio which is considering a film on the 442nd Combat Team. Darryl Zanuck's 20th Century-Fox, which last year registered the title "I Am a Nisei" for a proposed film about evacuation and wartime prejudice, recently sent a writer, Anthony Coldeway to Honolulu to gather material for a proposed picture about Nisei GIs. Mr. Coldeway presumably has submitted his ideas to Fox executives by this time and an announcement may be forthcoming if the picture is to be produced. Because of recent events in Korea, however, the studio may shift its emphasis to a film of more topical nature.

MGM's reasons for producing "Go for Broke" have nothing to do with retribution, particularly since the studio did not participate in the anti-Nisei hysteria which followed Pearl Harbor (Warner's and Universal were the main offenders), but a film on Nisei GIs can have a powerful emotional impact which will do much to counteract the misrepresentations of such wartime pictures as "Across the Pacific," "Air Force," and "Little Tokyo, USA." A picture about Nisei soldiers, in which the original veterans of the 442nd Combat Team will appear, should do much to erase the Japanese racial stereotype which Hollywood has projected for many years.
